Codejock Software receives 2010 Members Choice Award

June 6, 2010 (Morrice, MI) – The Code Project, one of the world's largest online developer communities, announced the winners of their Second Annual Members Choice awards for best development products and tools at a reception preceding Microsoft®'s TechEd 2010 conference in New Orleans. Codejock Software is honored to be selected for Best C++/MFC Components.

The Code Project asked its members to rate their favorite products. The results reflect actual perceptions of what developers value. Members decide which companies or products deserve recognition, based on in-the-field experience. Codejock Software was awarded Best C++/MFC Components for their Xtreme Toolkit Pro bundle.

Codejock's Xtreme Toolkit Pro includes a complete set of graphical user interface components for Visual C++ / MFC developers. "Winning the 2010 Members Choice award is evidence of our commitment to quality and customer service." said Kirk Stowell, CEO. "The Xtreme Toolkit Pro has become the premier choice for C++/MFC application developers. We thank our customers for their continued support as we strive to meet the needs of today's developer community".
